Let me get this out of the way: it's not a good game. It's not fun in the traditional sense, it's not engaging, and its controls are really fickle. However, this game is quite hilarious. Every time you realize the absolute ridiculousness of yelling at your phone to play a stupid little game, you're going to laugh. That's what makes this game interesting to play. I'm probably not going to keep it on my phone, because it's just not fun to play, but every time I'm super bored and need a funny little pick-up, I'll reinstall it.
